

Conclusion

The Rapporteur, Mr. SWEET, then read the summary account of the Conference.

The CHAIRMAN asked for a vote in favour of adopting the report; this was carried and a vote of thanks to the two rapporteurs was proposed by Mr. Aujame and seconded by Mr. Squier. The report of this session would be submitted for approval when the whole record was circulated.

The CHAIRMAN welcomed Mrs. Moos of India representing the High Commissioner's Office in London and herself in charge of education. She then thanked those who had worked to prepare the Conference and especially Mr. Carline and Mr. Dunbar Marshall, on behalf of all the observers. She suggested that this Conference might urge that the active collaboration of Unesco be sought to produce a series of films on the arts and painting of the East and West—a series of slides had already been produced—and supported the Brazilian Delegate's suggestion for the exchange of museum material, saying that it would be worth while if a sub-committee of this Conference could be formed to assist in this.

The CHAIRMAN welcomed the recommendations and said that they would be passed on to the Tokyo Conference. He expressed his thanks to the Vice-President, Prof. Rogers and to the Past President, Mr. Kestelman. He also expressed the appreciation of the U.K. National Committee for the participation of so many observers, not only from Great Britain but also from India, South Africa, Malaysia and other parts of the world—their contributions had been most helpful and valuable, and the record of the Conference would be communicated to them.

Mr. Dunbar MARSHALL, Conference Secretary-General, speaking in French, said he wanted to thank the many helpers who had given their time and skill with such a sense of dedication especially Mr. and Mrs. Meyer and Miss Kelley-Patterson. He praised the work of Mrs. Vaughan Williams, his assistant, and went on to express his faith in the value of the ferment brought about by the exchange of ideas between artists the world over.

Mr. SWEET proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Marshall; and Mr. Kestelman thanked Mrs. Vaughan Williams for all the work she had done.

The CHAIRMAN then closed the Conference.
